POETRY.

We copy the following beautiful lines, addressed to a young lady, formerly of this town, from the Boston Centinel of the 28th ult. on the "NEWPORT RUIN," so interestingly and well described by COOPER, in his Novel of "The Red Rover."

FROM THE BOSTON CENTINEL.
TO MISS *****

ON RECEIVING A MODEL OF
THE RUIN AT NEWPORT.
WHAT deep emotion marks the lonely hour
Where time in ruin stamps its sternest power.
How deep the feeling, as we stand to trace
The ruined structures of our fleeting race!
If whelmed by earthquakes, or the shifting sand
Or torrent fire, or only time its hand
Hath laid all withering, on the inmates,
And left the walls both tenantless and bare,
How deep the interest awakened to survey
The lone, lone dwelling of a former day.
What hidden heartstrings doth it deeply reach,
What tales of truth all powerful may it teach.
There stood the hearth in days now long gone
by:

There curled the flame; there glanced the brightening eye;
There glowed the cheek which love with beauty lit,
While warm emotions through the bosom flit.
Thoughts half suppressed though more than half revealed
In looks where love unlocks what pride concealed.

There met the forms of manhood, youth & age,
Bright, deep, and dark the drama of that stage.
There, bowed with years, revered, the grand-sire sat.

Pleased to the listening circle to relate
The oft told tale of things and times gone by;
While smiles alternate with the frequent sigh.
There glanced the needle of the industrious wife,

In strength of manhood and the pride of life,
There sat the father, from whose lips were flung

Care and counsel to direct the young.
The sports of childhood & of youth were there,
In hours of mirthful pleasure, void of care.

There love first awakened in the careless game;
And there was cherished to a hallowed flame.
The school-boy task, and sport, and dance
were there,

The fireside blessing and the fireside prayer.

Not always thus. Reverse, sorrows came;
And dim and flickering fell the fireside flame.
Scent after scent was seen left vacant there,
The circle lessening by another chair.

Cheeks blooming once, were sadly sunk and pale,
And haggard looks too truly told the tale.
They passed away, and years with years have down,

And not a foot returns to tread the stone;
Nor ever shall. And when our feet now tread Shall find, ere long, each trace forever fled.

Years have gone by since, pilgrim from the field,

With blood of noblest Indian martyr sealed.
I left the shore where haup in pride is seen,
With fame yet fresher than its robe of green,
And from the breast beheld with heart elate,
The verdant slopes which grace the island
state:

Between whose smooth green banks and waves
so blue
The fair white castle glistens on the view.
A lively object, and a lovely sight,
While bloody battle bears no blackening blight.

When o'er the haven, rood, and harbor there,
And beauteous Isle, the moon rose full and fair,
I saw much wondering in my lonely way,
The bold deep shadows of the Ruin gray!

And sought the spot at early dawn again,
Before the sun rose brightly from the main.
And well I trace in this neat work of art,
Your hands have modelled, all that thrilled the heart.

In that lone ruin of the roofless tower,
Which marks where time moves mighty in its power.
So rise the pillars from the grassy sod,
Whose spires erect by feet then seldom trod,
Seemed proud & boastful of its youth renewed.
Around the tower whose strength time slow subdued.

Deep was the silence: not the earliest bird,
Nor waking breeze, nor dripping dew was heard.

In deep repose lay ocean, earth and sky,
And not a cloud rolled silent forth on high.
The very stars upon the western verge Seemed for a time no onward course to urge.
Anxious to pause one moment on their way
A scene of peace so matchless to survey.

The air itself in dalliance with sweet flowers Seemed scarcely breathing. Save the ruthless hours,

Nothing unsensate, seemed to speed its way;
Not on the tower the hand of rude decay.
What contrast this from days, perchance, when rose

The lonely fortress 'gainst impending foes!
When sound of pirate prow, or fearful yell
From savage bark above the surges swells!

As then I gazed, with look intent to learn,
The cause whence rose the structure gray and stern,

How little deemed I hand so fair should frame
For me a perfect model of the same.
The pillars, arches, and the window there;
Where oft, perchance, some loved and loving fair,

When storms swept sternly o'er the surging deep,
With trembling hand and straining eye would keep.

Through the wild night her watch of wakeful care.
And tell the torch to guide the boatman there.
Can lure less powerful to the model draw?
Let him reply the framing hand who saw.

Bright as the waters round that Eden isle, Beam forth those eyes when beauty makes its smile.

Ripe as her cherries in their ruddy prime Cluster those lips, with breath from fields of thyme.

Through all her orchards we in vain shall seek
The melting ripeness of that beautiful cheek.

Graceful as tendrils to that ruin cling.
The form of beauty o'er the model hung Dream not, fair girl, the toy those hands have fringed.

The only ruin you have ever wrought.
The brilliant lustre of those dazzling eyes
More powerful far than time, though scythearmed, flies.

And well may she prove skillful in these arts,
Who works the ruin of a thousand hearts.
May 26. OROLIO.

Twenty-Third Congress. FIRST SESSION.

IN SENATE, Wednesday, May 20.

Mr. Webster, from the Committee on Finance, reported a bill, modifying the act regulating imports; repealing so much of it as relates to the importation of hardware, copper and brass.

Mr. Clay rose and said, that, as the morning business seemed to have been gone through, he should move the Senate for leave to introduce two joint resolutions. He had given notice of one resolution, but, on reflection, he had thought it best to prepare separate resolutions, which, as they were short, he would read in his place:—

Resolved, by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the U. S. of America in Congress assembled, That the reasons communicated by the Secretary of the Treasury, in his report to Congress of the 4th Dec. 1833, for the removal of the Deposites of the money of the United States, from the Bank of the U. S.; and its branches, are insufficient and unsatisfactory:

Resolved, therefore, That all deposits of the money of the U. S. which may accrue or be received, on and after the 1st day of July, 1834, shall be made with the Bank of the U. States, and its branches, in conformity with the provisions of the act, entitled, "an act to incorporate the subscribers to the Bank of the U. S." approved the 10th day of April, 1816.

Mr. Clay spoke at some length in favor of these resolutions, and in the course of his remarks, said:—

Whatever might be the fate of these resolutions at the other end of the Capitol, or in another building, that consideration ought to have no influence on the course of this body. The Senate owed it to its own character, and to the country, to proceed in the discharge of its duties, and to leave it to others, whether at the other end of the Capitol or in another building, to perform their own obligations to the country, according to their own sense of their duty,
and their own convictions of responsibility.
To them it ought to be left to determine what was their duty, and to discharge that duty as they might think best.— For himself, he should be ashamed to return to his constituents without having made every lawful effort in his power to cause the restoration of the public deposits to the United States Bank.— While a chance yet remained, he said,
of effecting the restoration of the laws,
he felt that he should not have discharged his duty if he failed to make every effort to accomplish that desirable object.

To-morrow (continued Mr. Clay) will be the last day of one entire year, since we have had a Secretary of the Treasury of the United States appointed in conformity to the provisions of the Constitution of the United States. Unless the Executive nomination is to be found in the communications which have been brought to the Senate this morning, it will be one year to-morrow since there has been a head of that Department, holding the office and performing the duties, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, conformably to the Constitution. It has been asked on another occasion, why this great anxiety for the nominations of persons who have been appointed during the recess?

For no other reason than that the Constitution requires the nominations to be made. It had been asked, if we were anxious to receive the nominations, in order that we may reject them. There is no one who has a right to put such a question. It is sufficient to answer, that the Constitution requires the nominations to be made; and to say that this has not been done. And we might re-tor, if it were proper to go into any inquiry as to motives, why is the nomination of a Secretary of the Treasury withheld? Is it kept back because it is known, will prove unacceptable to this body? But it is not my purpose to go into the consideration of these questions;
or, indeed, to say any thing on the subject of the resolutions, which can now provoke any debate. All that I have further to say, is to express a hope that the resolutions will be acted on, and will be suffered to receive the decision of the Senate, without any unnecessary or protracted debate.

Mr. Benton then expressed, at some length, his reasons for opposing the motion for leave to introduce the resolutions, and concluded with moving that that the further consideration of the question should be postponed until this day week.

The motion to postpone was lost, by Yeas 18, Nays 25.

The resolutions were then read and ordered to a second reading.

On motion of Mr. Webster, the Senate then proceeded to the consideration of Executive business. After remaining for some time with closed doors,
The Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The reports on the Kentucky contested election were taken up, and debated the whole of the sitting,
without taking any question, and the House adjourned.

IN SENATE, Thursday, May 29.—
The resolution offered by Mr. Preston, calling on the War Department for information relative to pensioners and pensions, was further debated.

The Senate then went into the consideration of Executive business, and when the doors were opened the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. J. Q. Adams obtained the unanimous consent of the House to submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Select Committee of this House, appointed on the 4th of April last, to investigate the proceedings of the Bank of the United States, be discharged from the further consideration of the subject referred to therein:

Resolved, That in the transaction of the said Committee with the President and Directors of the Bank of the United States, as set forth in the Reports of the Committee, and in the Correspondence annexed to the same, no contempt of the lawful authority of this House has been offered by the said President and Directors of the Bank, or by any one of them.

Resolved, That any order of this House to the Sergeant-at-Arms to arrest and bring to the bar of the House the President and Directors of the Bank of the United States, or any one of them, to answer for an alleged contempt of the authority of the House, as proposed by the concluding resolution offered by the Report of the majority of the said Select Committee, would be an unconstitutional arbitrary, and oppressive abuse of power.

Mr. Adams said it was his intention to propose these resolutions as a substitute for those reported by the majority of the Committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Bank of the United States, when the reports should come up for consideration.

On motion of Mr. Adams, the resolutions were ordered to be printed.

The resolution of Mr. Boon, fixing upon the 16th of June for the adjournment of Congress, was taken up. Mr.
Polk suggested the expediency of amending it, by inserting the 23d. Mr. Boon at first declined making the amendment, but afterwards accepted it. Various propositions of amendment were made,
and rejected and several calls were made for the previous question, but were not sustained. A motion to insert the 30th of June was rejected, but the vote was reconsidered, yeas 123, nays 83, on motion of Mr. Clayton, and the 30th was inserted by a vote of 128 to 83. The last day of June is therefore appointed by the House for the termination of the session.

IN SENATE, Friday, May 30.— Mr. Clay made an ineffectual motion to take up the joint resolutions submitted by him on Wednesday, in relation to the deposits; but the motion was decided to be out of order, by the Chair, under the rule appropriating the Fridays and Saturdays of each week, to the consideration of bills.—Mr. Clay then gave notice, that on Monday next, he should call up these resolutions, and press for their consideration.

The bill to regulate the value of certain foreign coins, was read twice, and referred to the Finance committee.

The Senate then took up the bill for the better organization of the Marine Corps: after some debate, the bill was ordered to a third reading.

Several private bills were acted on,
and the Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Kentucky contested Election was further debated, but no decision was had.

Several private bills were ordered to a third reading.

Mr. Speaker Stevenson then rose and informed the House, that he had taken this morning, though still laboring under severe and continued indisposition, for the purpose of opening the House, and preventing any delay in its business, and likewise for the purpose of announcing his determination of resigning the Speaker's Chair, and his seat in Congress.—
This he proposed doing on Monday next, at 11 o'clock. He had forewarned this resolution under a deep sense of duty, and because his state of health rendered it impossible for him (as must be apparent to the House) to discharge in person the laborious duties of the Chair; and he had, therefore, deemed it respectful and proper to give this early notice of his intention to retire.

The House then adjourned.
IN SENATE, Saturday, May 31.—The whole sitting was occupied on private bills.

HOUSE.—The question of the Kentucky election was then considered, and Mr. Moore addressed the House, in vindication of his claim. Mr. Leavitt moved the previous question, to cut off the amendments, which proposed to include the votes rejected by the Committee, and which, by reducing the majority of Mr. Letcher, led them to pronounce Mr. Moore entitled to his seat. This motion was rejected, yeas 89, nays 102. Various ineffectual efforts to procure an adjournment were made, and a call of the House was ordered, when 210 members answered to their names. The amendments suggested by the minority of the Committee, all proposing to include in the estimate of the votes for Mr. Letcher, those which had been rejected by the majority, were adopted by decisive votes. At half past eight, the House adjourned, without having finished the consideration of the subject; but the question is believed to be, at present, substantially decided in favor of the claim of Mr. Letcher, and against the report of the Committee of Elections.

IN SENATE, Monday, June 2.—A great number of memorials, &c. relative to the depositions, &c. were read.

Mr. Grundy, from the committee on the Post-Office, reported a bill placing periodical pamphlets on the same rate of postage as newspapers, and extending the franking privilege to the Chief Engineer of the War Department.

Mr. Clay then moved to take up the joint resolutions submitted by him some days since, on the removal of the public deposits from the U. S. Bank, and their future disposition.

Mr. Benton moved indefinitely to postpone the resolutions, proposing, if that motion should prevail, to submit a substitute as follows:

[The amendment is substantially the same as the bill reported by Mr. Polk, from the Committee of Ways & Means, in the House, providing for the future disposition of the public revenue, in the State Banks.]

The question for an indefinite postponement, was negatived by 13 to 29.

After rejecting the amendment of Mr. Benton, and a proposition by the same gentleman to appoint a select committee to take the subject into consideration, the Senate at half past 6 o'clock, ordered the resolutions, as originally offered by Mr. Clay, to be engrossed for a third reading without a division—and the Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—As soon as the Journal was read, Mr. Stevenson, (the Speaker) rose and addressed the House at some length, resigning his seat, and office as Speaker of the House.

The House then proceeded to the choice of a Speaker, when after ten ballots, Mr. Bell was elected by the following vote, on the last vote, viz:—For John Bell, 114; J. Polk, 78; R. H. Wilde, 11; seat, 8.

Whereupon, the Hon. John Bell, of Tennessee was declared duly elected Speaker, and Messrs. J. Q. Adams and R. M. Johnson, conducted him to the Chair, when he delivered a short but appropriate address, at the close of which he said:—

"When I reflect how great are the interests connected with this House, its character and action—interests not of a day or of a party, but of all time, of posterity, and of all the parties which are or ever will be arrayed against each other—and when I further reflect how much the character and action of this House depends upon a skill, firm, and impartial administration of the duties of the Chair, I confess I feel the deepest solicitude."

It is not so generally understood, I regret to believe, as it should be, in how great a degree the measures of a legislative assembly are modified and influenced by the manner of its deliberation.—A I will concede that it shall ever happen that this body shall fall into disrepute, and fail to command the respect and confidence of the people, our institutions will be in the greatest peril. Not only the character of the House, the wisdom and efficiency of its action, but the existence of our admirable frame of polity itself may be said to depend, in some degree, upon the order and dignity of the deliberations of this House. While then I entreat the indulgence of the House to my own defects, I earnestly invoke the assistance of every member of it in endeavoring to maintain and preserve so far as depends upon the proceedings of this body, those great and primary interests of constitutional Government and freedom, in support of which, I am sure, whatever difference of opinion there may be upon points of construction, policy, or administration, there is not a heart here, nor an American heart any where, that does not beat high."

On motion of Mr. Barringer, the House then adjourned.

Late Foreign Intelligence.

NEW YORK, JUNE 4.
LATEST FROM EUROPE.

By the Packet Ship Canada, arrived last evening, we have received London papers to the 4th of May.

In the British Parliament, the motion of Mr. O'Connell for the repeal of the Union was rejected by a very large majority. Mr. Spring Rice moved an address to the King on the subject of the repeal, which was agreed to by a majority of 485:523 voting for, and 33 against it. This address was unanimously concurred in by the House of Lords. It declares unqualified hostility to the project of repeal. We see no other statements of importance in the New York papers, relative to the proceedings of Parliament. Some changes have recently taken place in the Courts. Baron Williams has been removed from the Exchequer to the King's Bench, and Baron Vaughan to the Court of Common Pleas. Justices Alderson and James Parke are to take their places in the Exchequer.

An alarming riot has recently taken place at Drumcolloher, in Ireland, in consequence of an attempt to collect a tithe composition. The rioters were attacked by the military, and about 20 were killed.

The French Chamber of Deputies was expected to close its session on the 10th of May. In that event, the elections will probably be completed by the end of June, and the New Chamber will meet in September or October. There is no reason to believe that the Ministerial strength in it will be less than it is at present; it was thought that about thirty Carlist members would be returned, in consequence of an alliance, recently formed, between that party and the Republicans. An interesting debate had arisen on the question of relinquishing the possession of Algiers, and was not terminated at the last dates.

M. de Chateaubriand had announced himself to the electors of Lille as a candidate for election to the Chamber of Deputies. Indemnity has been solicited by the people of Lyons of the Government for losses sustained during the late disturbances. The city of Paris has been compelled to pay for certain damages and losses, during the late revolutionary movements. There is no intelligence of any more recent interruption of tranquillity, in any part of France.

Gen. Rodil, with the Spanish force ordered into Portugal, had driven Don Carlos before him, until, on the 13th of April, he reached Almeida, where the fugitives had taken refuge. In order to avoid a blockade, they fled at the approach of Rodil, and, on the 18th, the place declared for Donna Maria. Various other fortified places are said to have proclaimed the young queen, as the Spanish army advanced.

The English papers contain unofficial accounts of the contents of the treaty between Great Britain, France, Spain, and Portugal, on the subject of the affairs of the two latter, which is now said to have been concluded at London on the 22d of April. The following are declared to be its most material stipulations: Spain agrees to send an army into Portugal to aid the cause of Donna Maria; Don Pedro binds himself to expel Don Carlos from Portugal, and to publish an amnesty in favor of the adherents of Don Miguel, who shall, within a limited time, desert his cause; Great Britain is to lend the aid of her navy, to co-operate with the land forces of her allies; and France is to contribute such aid as the other parties may require.—It should be observed, however, that these accounts are not derived from the ministerial papers, but no doubts are expressed in regard to the existence of the treaty.

Gen. Quesada had been defeated by the Carlists in the valley of Borunda, and been compelled to take refuge in Pampeluna, after losing his baggage and artillery. The political state of the Northern Spanish provinces is such as to forbid the expectation of a speedy termination of the struggle. The city of Saragossa has been the scene of serious troubles. Several of the National Guards were assassinated by the Carlists with poniards; upon which the Liberals put to death all the royalist volunteers who could be found in the city.

The cause of Don Miguel is represented as in a wretched state, and his force rapidly diminishing by desertion. The accounts from Lisbon are to the 22d of April, and those from Oporto to the 25th. Some hopes were then entertained, that Lord Howard de Walden and Baron Mortier would be able to effect an accommodation between the brothers. On the 15th, the Duke of Terceira was at Murcia. He had driven Cardozo before him, and had taken possession of Regoa. Napier was blockading Figuera. A new attack had been made on St. Ubes by the Miguelites, but without success. The Pope has excommunicated Don Pedro, and all his adherents; in consequence of which, the Portuguese government threaten to relinquish all connexion with the Court of Rome. Don Pedro has reduced the duties on all foreign goods imported into Portugal, to 15 per cent.

Accounts from Vienna to the 20th of April state, the intelligence from Lyons had prevented the adjournment of the German Congress. Count Munch-Bellinghausen, the President of the German Diet, is to be appointed Austrian Minister of State. This Diet had demanded the expulsion of the Polish refugees from Switzerland, a requisition, to which the Swiss were not disposed to submit.

TURKEY.
Achmet Pacha has returned from his Russian mission to Constantinople, but is said to have forfeited the favor of the Sultan. The inhabitants of Samos have sent in proposals of submission to the Porte. An order has been issued for the establishment of a local militia throughout the empire. The Constantinople dates are to the 1st of April.

MOROCCO.
The Emperor of Morocco has broke off all intercourse with the Kingdom of two Sicilies, putting Tanger in a state to resist attack. His cruisers consist of one corvette, two brigs, and two schooners; they had not on the 17th April, put to sea, but the Emperor's design probably is, to capture all the Sicilians falling in their way, several of which were at the westward.

BY MAIL.

NEW ORLEANS, MAY 14.
DEFICIT.—The day before yesterday the Cashier of the Consolidated Association, and two of the clerks of the same Bank, were arrested. Large deficits have been discovered, the cause of which has been traced to those individuals. They gave security, each in the sum of $25,000, for their appearance at trial, and have since decamped.

MAY 19.
The mortality list rather exceeds its usual length last week. But if any increase is observable, it is confined to the upper suburbs, where strangers most congregate.

On the Anite river, in the neighborhood of Galveston, several cases of Cholera are said to have occurred among the whites and blacks.

Accounts from Vicksburg, (Miss.) to May 8th, state, that the Cholera was still raging on the river—that the hope which had cheered the inhabitants during its first visitation—that it would single out its victims, and then take its flight for ever—had vanished in the certainty that it has appeared on the Mississippi for two successive seasons, and probably will continue to wander for years up and down this great water course.

WASHINGTON, MAY 31.

We have received from Baltimore a copy of the Report of the Trustees of the Bank of Maryland. The facts disclosed by this Report are of a most extraordinary nature. If we rightly understand it, not only is the whole capital stock of the Bank sunk, but its assets fall short of paying its notes, debts, and deposits, by several hundred thousand dollars! Some of the particulars of this statement are, indeed, almost incredible.

PHILADELPHIA, MAY 31.

Presentment.—A presentment has been made by the Grand Jury of the Circuit Court of the United States, now in session at New Castle, under the following circumstances:—A pilot boat, belonging to Lewistown, commanded by Capt. Wesley, while cruising near the entrance of the Delaware Bay a few days since spoke a boat with 8 or 10 blacks on board, among them 2 children. The captain supposing they were runaway slaves, requested them to make fast to the pilot boat, and he would tow them to the land which the blacks declined, and the pilot boat left them. The captain still entertaining suspicions, again returned to the boat, and requested them to make fast to his vessel. The blacks still refused, and some altercations ensued, when they again parted. After leaving them some distance, the captain of the pilot boat, irritated probably by the recent altercation, again put about and steered for the boat, with a determination it is alleged, of carrying his point, and running down upon the boat, struck her amidship and cut her completely in two, in consequence of which, 4 of the blacks, including a woman and child, were drowned. A warrant, we understand, has been issued for the arrest of the Captain, and the Court adjourned over to the 15th of July, when it will sit for the trial of the case."

NEW-YORK, JUNE 4.

The French brig of war Courassier arrived at this port yesterday afternoon, with government despatches, from Brest which, no doubt, relate to the rejection, by the French Chambers, of the claims of our government upon that of France, for spoiliations upon our commerce, and which had been agreed upon by treaty between the two governments.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT BATAVIA.

The Albany Evening Journal, says:—Col. Elliot informs us that the following Way-bill endorsement, by the Post Master at Batavia, was received at the Albany Post Office last evening:—"One Quarter of this Village is totally destroyed by fire—All is confusion here." The Eagle Tavern, and 17 dwelling-houses, it is stated, are destroyed.

NEWPORT,
SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 7.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.

The House of Representatives, on the 29th ult. passed a joint resolution, by a vote of 123 to 83, to adjourn on Monday, the 30th of June.—The National Intelligencer expresses an opinion, that Congress cannot adjourn at so early a day, without neglecting great concerns which it is their duty to attend to.

TOWN-MEETING.

The Annual Meeting for the choice of Town-Officers, &c. was held on Tuesday last.—H. Y. Cranston, Esq. Moderator.—The officers of last year were generally re-elected.—The following are the principal appointments, and Municipal proceedings of the Meeting:

Clerks of Markets.—Thomas Bush, brick market; Chris. P. Boss, Red market.

Surveyor of Firewood, Coal, Bark, &c.—Peter P. Remington.—These offices it was thought best to be confided to one person, who would attend particularly to its duties.

The Town-Council were appointed a Committee to lease the Theatre.

The election of Town-Officers having been disposed of, the Meeting adjourned to 3 o'clock P. M.

In the Afternoon, the Report of the Public School Committee was read, received, and ordered to be placed on file in the Town Clerk's office. We subjoin the Report:—

Annual Report

OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOL COMMITTEE—1833-4.

To the Freeman of the town of Newport, at their annual Town Meeting to be held on the 3d day of June, 1834.—

The Public School Committee of the town of Newport, respectfully Report,—

That the number of scholars now in School, (June 3d,) are 308, viz:—173 boys, and 135 girls; most of the applications for admission during the past year have been granted. A considerable number of scholars have, as usual, been discharged for irregular attendance, and many of them re-admitted upon presenting a satisfactory excuse to the Committee.

The School has been continued in useful and satisfactory operation, with the exception of a necessary suspension of the boys' school for a few weeks, in consequence of the illness of the Instructor. It was hoped that this cause of interruption would, in a short time, cease to exist; and your Committee yielded to what they believed would only be a temporary inconvenience, in their desire to avoid losing altogether the services of an Instructor, who, in that station, had so highly recommended himself to the community. Your Committee were, however, disappointed in the result, for although he felt himself sufficiently restored to health to resume his duties, the state of his health again rendered it expedient for him to retire from his charge, and in the latter part of the winter, he tendered his resignation. Measures were promptly taken to procure another Instructor, both by letter and personal application, and a gentleman soon engaged, to whom, by the recommendation of others, the Committee felt themselves authorized to place the utmost confidence; and who, by their own observation, has since proved himself to be justly entitled to it. Aside from those casualties which, however perplexing, are unavoidable, the prospects of the School so far as they depend upon the Teachers, are highly flattering.

With a view of watching the progress of the scholars, and of ascertaining their proficiency in the several branches of study, and with the further hope of exciting their attention and interest by personal encouragement and acquaintance, your Committee have, at the stated periods of Public Examination, attended the School; and they have visited it for a similar purpose at other times, as often as their other engagements would permit.—It has been their wish and endeavor to discharge this portion of their duty with fidelity— but it must be apparent to every one, that the most constant attention which the Committee can give will be but a feeble compensation for that general interest and regard which a community, who feel a pride and pleasure in their public institutions, ought to bestow. In ordinary cases of individual expenditures of money, the sense of private interest or sacrifice, follows and watches over its application.—It is useful not only in making that application judicious, but in creating a proper sense of its value.—Public institutions, when this principle operates, if at all, only directly need a substitute. Public schools require from the community that attention from a sense of the public interest which, in other cases, the sense of private interest is both necessary and sufficient to produce.—Your Committee therefore, invite the attendance and personal inspection of the citizens, and particularly of parents, at the Public Examinations, and they believe that such manifestation of their regard will elevate the character of the School, and cause its value to be more justly appreciated.

The accounts and vouchers for the past year, were presented to the Town Council, yesterday, and by them audited.—The following is an abstract of the Treasurer's account of the Expenses of the School the past year, viz:

Salary for Instructors.....	$1028
Books and Stationary.....	183
Rewards to Monitors.....	48
Repairs and Improvements about the building.....	128
Incidental Expenses.....	119
Making in the aggregate.....	$1406

All which is respectfully submitted, by Geo. G. King,

For the Committee.

Newport, June 2d, 1834.

A motion was made by Maj. B. that the Public School in this town, not hereafter opened or closed by order. After supporting his motion earnestly for some time, the subject was indefinitely postponed.

The Finance Committee made the Report, by which it appears that the present expenses of the town for the year estimated at $11,874 33 cts. After making the Report, considerable debate rose in regard to the amount to be appropriated for repairs of streets and highways. It was finally determined, instead of assessing a tax of $7,000, recommended by the committee, a tax of $8000 be assessed—1000 of which be added to the appropriation previously made for repairing streets, &c., making in the whole $2,500 for that specific object.

The Town Treasurer was authorized to hire three thousand dollars for the purpose of meeting the demands on the Treasury, under the advice and direction of Edward W. Lawton.

A vote passed on recommendation of the Commissioners of the Asylum, deemed it for the interest of the town that the Overseer of the Poor should see that no improper persons are taken from them, for which duty additional compensation was allowed him.

On the petition of sundry persons to appropriate a sum for lighting Third street, the subject was referred to following committee, viz:—Geo. E. George Bowen, and Michael Freeborn—to report at the next town meeting.

The Commissioners of the School Fund made a Report which was received, and ordered to be put on file.

Mr. JOHN HORSWELL was appointed Orator for the 4th July, and the sum $50 appropriated to defray expenses of celebration. The following gentlemen were appointed a Committee of Arrangements, viz:—Stephen A. Robinson, G. Boss, Joseph Lyon, John C. Ailm, Milton Hall, Michael Freeborn, Adam S. Coe, Benj. Marsh, jun., Joseph Weaver, and Henry Y. Cranston.

After passing several Accounts, acting on some private business, the Meeting was adjourned.

STATE ELECTIONS.

The National Intelligencer of Monday last, states, that the election which was held a few days previous in the district on the Eastern shore of Maryland, to supply the vacancy in Congress, occasioned by the death of the late member, Mr. L. P. Deming, resulted in the election of Mr. Steele, the Whig candidate, by a majority of about 1000 votes over Mr. Stewart, the Jackson candidate.

The Municipal elections in New-Haven, and Norwich, (Conn.) have resulted in favor of the Whig candidates, by large majorities.

U. S. BANK DIRECTORS.—The Washington papers state, that Joseph White, of Baltimore, and Roberts Vaux, of Philadelphia, lately confirmed by the Senate as Government Directors of the Bank, decline accepting the appointment.

THE SPEAKER.—By reference to our Congressional journal, it will be seen, that on Monday last, Hon. John Bell, of Tennessee, chosen Speaker on the 10th ballot, in place of Mr. Stevenson, resigned, by a majority of 36 over Mr. Polk, the Administration candidate.

FRENCH CLAIMS.—The Senate of the U. S. have assigned Monday next, to take the bill for making payment to claimants of spoils committed by France, previous to the year 1800. The Washington correspondent of the U. S. Gazette, says: "There are lawyers, and claimants, and agents, looking for this bill, which has been waiting here the whole of the session. They came here full of hope, and high expectation, that the bill would immediately taken up, and passed. They have been disappointed, and I am inclined to think, notwithstanding a day has been devoted to the consideration of the subject, that the bill cannot be passed during this session, unless a more remote date than the 30th of June, shall be fixed for its termination."

DIVIDEND.—The New-York and Boston Steam-boat Company have declared a Dividend of five per cent. payable on the 15th inst.

TRADE WITH CUBA.

A Report has been made in the House Representatives, by the Committee on Commerce, upon the Trade to Cuba. The committee, says the Baltimore American, were instructed to inquire into the discriminating duties on American commerce, levied in the islands of Cuba and Porto Rico. The ground for inquiry is, that the ports of these islands are not included in the stipulations of the Convention of 1822, by which it was agreed between this country and Spain, to abolish, reciprocally, countervailing duties. Negotiation being failed to place our commerce on equal footing there, the President has recommended countervailing duties, and the Committee (by H. B. Pinckney) concur.

The Report complains, that the state of affairs shows the Spanish authorities carrying on a war of extinction against American Commerce, and monopolizing the whole carrying trade.—In proof of their success, they quote from official accounts of the trade of Cuba in 1822, that 226 American vessels, and 10 Spanish vessels entered the ports of the island; and that, though the Americans exceeded the Spanish by more than a hundred sail, the value of the cargoes in both directions—to and from the United States—vastly preponderated in favor of the Spanish vessels. The cargoes in American bottoms were worth $2,000,000; in Spanish, $3,500,000. The cargoes into the United States from American bottoms, $365,000; in Spanish $1,000,000. American vessels, say the committee, go to Cuba in great numbers, and pay $300,000 annually in the shape of tonnage money—a discrimination in favor of Spanish commerce.

They propose retaliatory measures to support a bill, general in its provisions, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to collect such additional tonnage duties upon Spanish vessels entering the ports of the United States from Cuba and Porto Rico, as shall be equivalent to the discriminating duty that would have been imposed upon the cargoes of such vessels, respectively, if the same had been exported from Havana in American bottoms; and also, upon Spanish vessels clearing out from the ports of the United States, such additional tonnage duty as would be equivalent to the discriminating duty payable upon their cargoes, respectively, if imported in Havana in American bottoms.

This is intended to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to keep pace with the changes or evasions of the Spanish authorities, by an increase or alteration of the form of their exactions. The President is to be authorized to discontinue the operation of the countervailing duties on a satisfactory arrangement with the government of Spain.

The Mechanic's Bank, at Patterson, New Jersey, has stopped payment, and their doors were closed on Friday last, and a label posted on the doors, "No Admittance."—The Bank is said to be deficient about $17,000.

TEXAS.—A gentleman recently arrived at New Orleans from Austin's colony, in Texas, represents that the spring has been unusually favorable to the planters and that the prospect of the cotton and grain crops was very flattering.

Mr Austin still remained in prison under arrest of the Mexican government but the Ayuntamiento of San Felipe de Austin had made a representation in his favor which it was believed would be effectual for his liberation. It has been healthy, and no disease of any description was existing any part of the country. A very considerable accession of population had been obtained by emigration into the various parts of it during the last winter to the number of about four thousand at least.

The Charleston Courier of the 24th ult. complains of the unjust restrictions imposed on American vessels in our trade with Cuba, and which has compelled many American vessels to change their national character, and assume the Spanish flag, in order to compete with the vessels of that nation—and says that this evil should not be permitted to exist longer. American vessels, compared with Spanish vessels, pay in Spanish ports, (in the island of Cuba) nearly treble the amount of charges, and nearly double the amount of duties.

Harrisburg Convention.—This Convention terminated on Friday last, after adopting a memorial to Congress, in favor of restoring the deposits. &c. and an address to the electors of Pennsylvania, was also adopted. Of 208 members in the Convention, it was ascertained that 75 had been supporters of Gen. Jackson.

The account of the extraordinary mortality at Fort Mitchell, is stated in the New-York papers to be without foundation.

Melancholy Accident.—On Saturday last, Mr. Stephen Potter, 2d, accompanied by two lads, George, son of Mr. John Ruggles, and James, son of Mr. Wm. Bates, were drowned at New-Bedford by the upsetting of a boat, while on a fishing excursion. The bodies of the boys have been found. Mr. Potter was 34 years of age, and has left a wife and four children. The lads were both about 16.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

A member of the bar in Charleston, has been suspended for using improper language to a female witness.

The Richmond Compiler states, that the Cholera has re-appeared in Kanawha, in that State, and that several deaths have occurred.

The Baltimore Gazette states, that counterfeit ten cent pieces are in circulation.

Do. do. 1822, very warm Spring, 49°. 48

REMARKS.—This Month has been remarkably cold and uncomfortable, from the great prevalence of easterly winds, with severe rains, and cloudy weather, which has proved very detrimental to vegetation, and more particularly to fruit trees.—The rain, and cold weather, from the 5th to the 14th, has no doubt destroyed nearly all the Peaches, and other stone fruit. Indian Corn, the principal dependence of our Farmers, never was so backward, or so unfavorable in its appearance.
The mean average of this Month falls 4 1-2 degrees below that of May, of last year; more than 7 deg. below that of May 1822, the warmest in last 12 years; and nearly 4 deg. below the mean of the last 12 years. May 1832, was the coldest we have on our records, and was about 1 1-2 degrees colder than this Month.
The three Spring months this Year are about half a degree colder than those of last year; and about 4 deg. colder than the uncommonly warm Spring months of 1822; the cold Spring of 1817, was about 2 1-2 deg. colder than the Spring months of this Year.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Tuesday last, Mr. Clay's first resolution for the restoration of the Deposites to the U. S. Bank, was passed by yeas 29, nays 16.

The resolution from the House for an adjournment on the 30th June, was postponed to Monday, the 9th inst.

The House were engaged all day on the Kentucky Election, without coming to a final vote

Morrison's Hygeian

VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL MEDICINE

THIS IS TO CERTIFY, That SAMUEL YOUNG having given assurance of his conviction in the Hygeian Theory of Physiology, as developed by the British College of Health, London; and having furnished the necessary security against counterfeits, is appointed Sole Agent for vending the MORRISON'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL MEDICINE, AND PUBLICATIONS, in and for the State of Rhode-Island.

In confirmation whereof I have this fourth day of January, 1833, set my hand.

H. SHEPARD WAT.

Sole General Hygeian Agent for the U. S. of America. Smith-street, Brooklyn, L. I.

This is to certify, that I have appointed the following gentlemen as Agents for vending Morrison's Hygeian Universal Medicines in this State, to wit:—Mr. Reuel H. Baker, Warren, Mr. David Melville, of Newport, Messrs. George Hammond & Co. Wickford, Stephen G. Benedict, at the Post Office, Pawtucket, Mr. Jefferson L. Kimball, Coventry and James B. Pearce, in East Greenwich, May 4, 1833. SAMUEL YOUNG.

The Subscriber being appointed Sole Agent for vending MORRISON'S HYGEIAN UNIVERSAL MEDICINES, for the State of Rhode-Island, hereby gives notice, that no other person will be authorized to vend said Medicines in this city;—but for the accommodation of the public, I have appointed agents in different parts of the State, and to guard the public against impositions, they may be assured, that should any Medicines be offered for sale in this State, purporting to be Morrison's Hygeian Universal Medicines, by any person except myself, or my authorized agents, that they will be counterfeits.

SAMUEL YOUNG,

No. 107, Westminster-street.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

As some unprincipled wretches, in this, and other States, are imposing on the public, by vending a spurious article, purporting to be Morrison's Vegetables Hygeian Universal Medicines, of the British College of Health, London, by which notorious practice, they not only defraud the public of their money, but jeopardize not only their healths, but the lives of the credulous who are made dupes of their impostures.—And in order to counteract the nefarious practice of these unprincipled wretches, this is to give notice that a new label is attached to each and every package of the genuine Pills, which must be signed by every State agent, and also by a sub-agent, when sold by him, and should any pills be offered for sale in this State, purporting to be Morrison's Vegetables Hygeian Universal Medicines of the British College of Health, London, without my signature, and the signature of a sub-agent, when sold by him, that they will be counterfeits.—And the public are respectfully requested to preserve the labels on each box, in order to detect imposters.

SAMUEL YOUNG,

March 21. Agent for the State of R.I.

Glass Agency.

THE subscriber having been appointed by the New-England Crown Glass Company, BOSTON, their Agent for the sale of their Glass, now offers at the manufactory prices, 1st and 2d quality Crown Glass, from 24 by 17, to 10 by 9.

Terms—under $100, cash; $1.00, sixty days credit; $200, 90 days; $300, four months—No discount allowed except interest.

The Glass manufactured by the New-England Crown Glass Company, is composed of the best materials, rendering its transparency very pure, and its color very bright, and making it valuable for Factories, Stores, Dwelling and Meeting Houses, as it casts no coloured tinge when the ray of light pass through it.

Contractors and Glaziers in town and country, will find it for their interest to apply to the subscriber, who will explain to them all the particulars as to the prices & terms—wholesale and retail.

All orders will receive immediate attention and prompt execution.

Its workmanship is good, and it is very straight and even. Being all of the first thickness, it is cheaper, besides being stronger than other Crown Glass, when the thickness and weight of the metal are considered, as will be found on comparison with Foreign Crown Glass.
